

Alley Drive Nears End

The drive for $35,000 sponsored by the Grayling American Legion Post to construct community bowling alleys is nearing its end as far as time is concerned but far from that needed amount as $18,750 is still needed.

Legion committee spokesmen said that over 300 persons had been contacted so far and only about half of the needed funds have been forthcoming. They said that if the community wanted alleys they would have to dig deeper and fast. The deadline of May 1 to raise the necessary funds was set in order that the alleys could be ready by October. Even if the deadline is reached with the funds the construction will have to be rushed to be ready for a fall opening.

The committee heads said they felt the community was not behind them in the effort as shown by the size of the loans. It is impossible for the Legion and veterans to swing the whole project alone. It needs public support.

they said and again pointed out that donations were not being asked but only straight ten year loans with a two per cent per year interest to be paid on them.

The Legion has accepted a donation of gravel and grading on the proposed site on US-27 and has already prepared the site with the only cost thus far being the fuel for the trucks used on the grading job. The committee urgently asked that the public and more, especially the merchants of Grayling, lend behind the project now to the best of their ability while there still is time to realize this fine community addition.

A great deal of sporting goods, candy and cigarettes were stolen. Following this breaking of the law, the four boys rode the midnight train on Sunday night to Standish where they broke into two places of business there. They then hitch-hiked back to Grayling.

The apprehension was made when the parents of one of the four informed the sheriff's office and the quartet were rounded up. Investigation in the case is continuing, the sheriff said.

The old building was constructed by the late Frank Ahman to house his Ford garage in which he was partners with George Burke. The service station is now operated with the same gas pump island but the office is housed in the front of the building which used to house Mr. Ahman's machine shop.

The new building will be of cement block construction covered with enameled steel. The colors used will be a light off white color trimmed in red, the traditional Mobil Company colors. The concrete and block work is being done by Melvin Marshall.

The outside of the building is expected to be completed by Decoration Day with the inside finishing to take two weeks or so longer.

The new building will house a showroom and office as well as a grease and wash rack. The new pump island will be constructed large enough for 4 gas pumps but only 3 will be used to start with. The drive in front of the new station and both approaches will be laid down in new concrete.

Conservation Notes

At this time of year in particular we get a lot of questions concerning fire arms.

To transport or have in possession a fire arm it is necessary to be in possession of an unexpired small game hunting license. Persons in possession of such a license may hunt crows, rats and other unprotected birds and animals between the hours of sun rise and sun set. While transporting the arm in an automobile, it must be broken down or in a case. It is unlawful to have a fire arm in possession or to transport it from sun set until sun rise. Every hunter regardless of age who uses a fire arm must be in possession of a hunting license. Hunters must be 17 years of age to be hunting alone. Those hunters under 17 years of age may hunt with someone older than 17 or with parents or guardian.

If you are going to target practice the same laws govern it as if hunting.

For those of you who have revolvers, pistols, cut down rifle and sawed off shot guns, there are some very strict laws pertaining to them. To get information concerning concealed weapons etc., contact the Sheriff's Department.

Where Taxes Go

The Ides of March are past, but the national headache that occurs each March 15 when the income tax falls due lingers on. At the present time, even the smallest taxpayers (in the under-$2,000 bracket) must pay more than a fifth of their taxable income to the federal government. In the rarified air of over-$200,000 the federal tax begins taking a whopping 92 per cent. And you don't have to be rich to be in the group that pays half its income to the federal treasury—the 62 per cent rate is reached when your taxable earnings pass $20,000 and it goes up exceedingly fast from there. The many state income taxes take a slice of what's left in addition to property taxes.

This fiscal year the federal tax take is expected to total almost $69,000,000,000, of which half will come from individuals and the rest from corporations and indirect sources. A great many of us are wondering just where all that money goes.

U. S. News & World Report supplied this information in its issue of March 20. Here is what happens to each tax dollar: Armed forces, 58c; interest on the debt, 8.7c; foreign aid, 7.7c; to veterans, 6c; social welfare, 4c; stockpiling and related security activities, 2.9c; public works, 2.9c; atomic energy, 2.7c; to farmers, 2.6c; other purposes, 5.1c.

These, of course, are general classifications. U. S. News went on to show in more detail how our federal tax dollars are spent. For instance, the government payroll is $18,700,000,000 a year, with civilian workers accounting for a little more than half of it. The states are given grants of $1,300,000,000 as part of the public-assistance program. The Post Office Department is currently spending $666,000,000 more than it takes in. The Navy is getting some new ships—bill, $900,000,000.

Military airplanes are a much bigger item—$7,400,000,000 this year. Collecting taxes is a costly business in itself—the Bureau of Internal Revenue's budget is $273,000,000. Crime is another substantial expense to you, the taxpayer—the federal prisons cost $29,200,000 and the FBI $70,300,000.

The Eisenhower Administration is committed to going over all of these expenses with a fine-tooth comb, and reducing them whenever possible. It must pare billions just to balance the budget, much less to start slicing it. It's a whale of a job—but a job that practically everyone is convinced must be done.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Chip Pulls a "Pip"

Chip Hanson is a clever commercial artist. Beside doing cartoons on our paper, he picks up "free lance" drawing jobs.

Right now he's whipping up posters for the Safety Campaign. They all have headlines like "PLAY IT SAFE!", "A LIVE WIRE CAN START A FIRE!"

Chip looked a bit sheepish yesterday. Didn't want to tell me why. Finally he blurted out, "I feel like a dope. Here I am on this safety program and the fire inspectors tell me my own studio's a fire trap. I've been storing paint there for years..."

From where I sit, what happened to Chip could happen to anyone. He was just too busy informing everyone else about safety — not realizing his safety was threatened. Like those who fret about their neighbors — whether they can afford a new house, whether they should have coffee or a glass of beer with lunch — Chip simply forgot to "draw" some obvious conclusions about himself!

COLFAX, IOWAThis Railroad Story
Needs a Happy Ending

1. ONCE UPON A TIME there were just the horse and buggy and the Iron Horse. Every village and town needed the only known kind of rapid passenger transportation. So railroads built hundreds of branch lines out from their main trunk routes to meet America's need.

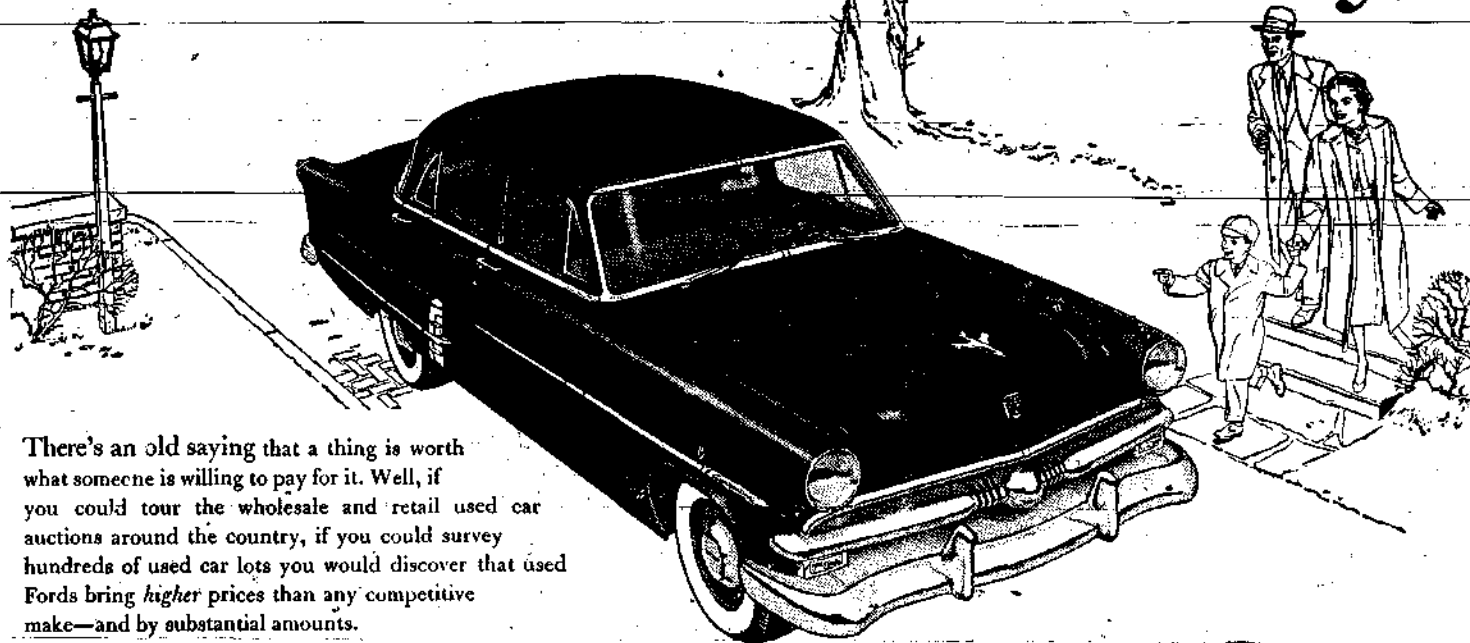

2. THEN THE HORSELESS CARRIAGE and its big brother the bus began to bring a change. Dirt roads became paved highways. Soon cars and busses proved more convenient for short trips. So fewer... and fewer... and fewer people used those branch-line passenger trains.

3. YET OLD REGULATIONS FORCE these unneeded, almost-empty trains to go on running. Sometimes they carry more crew than passengers! With every turn of the wheels they waste money... millions a year that railroads could otherwise use to improve their through train service.

4. WOULDN'T YOU RATHER have such outdated regulations changed, so that little-used trains could be dropped? Then the wasted millions could build more trains like this New York Central streamliner. The modern transportation modern America needs. For that's the CENTRAL IDEAL

Worth more... and why

There's an old saying that a thing is worth what someone is willing to pay for it. Well, if you could tour the wholesale and retail used car auctions around the country, if you could survey hundreds of used car lots you would discover that used Fords bring higher prices than any competitive make—and by substantial amounts.

THAT'S WHY we feel our '53 cars should not be compared with cars in the same price range. Not because our competitors don't do a good job—obviously they do—but because we feel Ford Cars have more in common with the highest priced automobiles. The similarities are far greater than the differences.

For example. Today, the most expensive cars in this country have V-type, 8-cylinder engines. Ford Cars have had this exact same type of engine for over 20 years.

What's more astounding, the current Strato-Star V-8 sells for hundreds of dollars less than several other makers charge for a six-cylinder car. Now there's nothing wrong with a Six but they do cost less to make. Ford makes a Six—the most modern overhead valve Six in the industry. And if it's a six-cylinder car you want, Ford has it and for less money than the V-8, which is as it should be.

What about ride? Here's another Ford similarity with high-priced cars... Riding Comfort. One of the misconceptions for many years has been that weight—sheer weight—is what it takes to make a car ride well. Ford has found that you can make a 3000-pound car ride softer and hold the road better by far than many cars that weigh a full 1000 pounds more. In the '53 Ford, for example, front end road shock has been reduced up to 80%. We say it compares most favorably with the heaviest cars sold today.

What about automatic transmissions? It would take the fingers of both hands to count the various kinds of automatic and semi-automatic transmissions on the market today. The one we offer is called Fordomatic. It is the most versatile on the market, it represents the most profound consideration of engine-to-wheel power transfer—and that it does the best job for our engines isn't even open to question. It "shifts" better than you could shift by hand.

What you can see is also important. Here again Ford Cars lead not only in their price field but in the medium and upper brackets as well. Ford visibility is Full-Circle Visibility. This means huge, curved unobstructed glass area, front and rear, plus side windows that allow all passengers what the hotels call "room with a view."

Appearance? A higher price, of course, does not make a car more beautiful. Conversely, beauty in a Ford comes "for free." Ford has found that it costs no more to develop a beautiful car than one that is less pleasing in appearance. You can drive up to the most exclusive doorways in the world and feel perfectly at home in your Ford. Fords "belong" in exactly the same social category as the finest, one-of-a-kind creations. After all, a Ford is a custom creation multiplied.

What about running costs? Here's one place that Ford's advantages are obvious. For oil and gas economy Ford has the big cars whipped. Ford parts cost less. Ford service charges are less. Ford tire mileage is thousands of miles greater. And, Ford depreciation is the lowest of any car on the market—bar none.

What are Fords made of? Some people have the idea that the costliest cars are made of "better stuff." It's true that some high-priced cars have costlier upholstery and fittings. What Ford has is so good, both in durability and appearance, that you probably could not tell the difference. You might even prefer it, because of its better design and more pleasing appearance.

Then there's the question of sheet metal. If you were to measure and analyze the sheet metal structure in the most expensive car, you most likely would find it identical in thickness to the corresponding panels in Ford.

After all, then, what is the difference between a Ford and the costliest cars?

In our opinion, the difference is largely a matter of dimensions, weight (and the power required to move it) plus the distinction of owning a car that not so many other people own. The desire for these things is understandable... and probably justified for people who are willing to pay the price to satisfy it.

As to comparing Ford with other cars in its price range, by all means do so if you wish. But, as we said before, you'll get a better picture of Ford value by comparing with cars that are most like Fords—those that are priced up to twice as much. In fact, we think you'll quickly begin comparing the other cars with Ford—because the 1953 Ford has really established the New Standard of the American Road.

YOUR MILK...

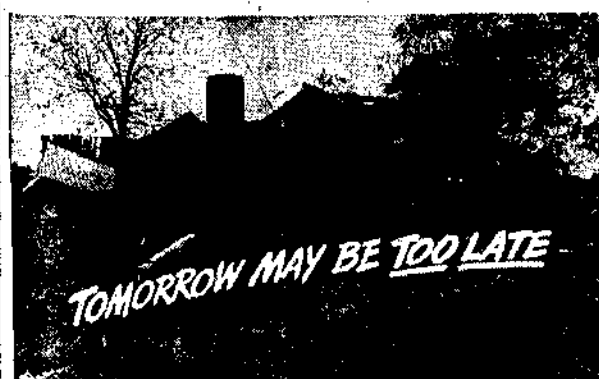

If we want to take the most out of this life and have our deeds enshrined on the tablet of memory, we must share with our weaker brothers. That which will give strength to endure and peace to enjoy in full measure with overflowing cup, of what we have and others can not get along without.

If we do all this, the world is our and everything that is in it. We are going to take out, just what we put in to it. Of course, the less thoughtful and the miser will have no part of that. But the self-inflicted chains will bind them fast to the stake of a wasted life.

One way to feel our best is to drink good milk. In the long run, it will be easy on the pocketbook. Call up Hunter's AuSable Dairy and buy this good Crawford County produced milk.

Cancer strikes in one of every two families. Each year more than 60,000 American children under the age of eighteen lose a parent to cancer.

Yet many cancers can be cured, if discovered in time.

Every man should have a complete physical examination once a year. Women over thirty-five should have a complete physical examination twice a year. Patients are being saved today who could not have been saved even a few years ago.

The American Cancer Society asks your help.

How soon we find cancer's cause and cure depends on how soon and how much help comes from people like you.
